WINTER 2017

The ABC’s of Honey Bees Course Offering

Case Western Reserve University’s Squire Valleevue and Valley Ridge Farms, at 37125 Fairmount Blvd. in Hunting Valley, is offering a beekeeping course this winter 2017.

Mr. Richard Manley, University Farm beekeeping consultant for over five years, in conjunction with the Farm Administration, will be teaching the “ABC’s of Honey Bees” course.

The one-day, 4-hour course will be offered in February and March from 8:30am to 12:30pm
1. Saturday, February 18, 2017
2. Saturday, March 18, 2017

The course will cover all aspects of beginning beekeeping, honey bee biology and diseases, and hive management.

Weather permitted students would be able to participate in hives inspection including observation of brood, honey and pollen cells.

The course fee is $48 per participant. A minimum of 6 participants will be required to offer course.

To register, complete the online form (add link):
http://students.case.edu/farm/education/abcbees.fbsx

Parking in main lot (in front of Greenhouse). Class will meet in the Main Lab/ Administrative building, Kutina Classroom. Signs will be posted

For more information, contact Patty Gregory at the farm office at 216-368-0274 or farm@case.edu